Video

Reliable intrusion detection that integrates with access control and IP video

Bosch can help you put safeguards in place with a complete security system that is easy to learn, use and maintain while safeguarding your financial institution and protecting your employees and customers. Our integrated access control connects directly to your Bosch intrusion panel for real time alerts and notifications. With the addition of analytic video, you have a full system to let the right people in, keep the wrong people out, and monitor a plethora of situations.

► Provide safe and secure operation of your branch

Increase security for critical areas with dual authentication that requires users to enter a passcode & present a credential to unlock a door. Or use two-person disarm which requires two user passcodes to be entered to disarm the system.

► Protect your personnel

For an additional layer of security, enable your tellers to call for help using a wireless panic button they can wear around their wrist, neck, or clip on a belt. In the event of a robbery, tellers can trigger a silent alarm with a bill trap in the cash drawer.

► Ensure critical areas are secure

Use area arming for the financial institution's critical sections to ensure areas remain secure. If someone forgets to arm a critical area such as the ATM room or IT room it can re-arm automatically after a pre-selected period.

► Keep your ATM lobby safe for customers

Use the video analytics to identify a person loitering in your ATM area. With our integration the camera will notify the alarm panel and record at the same time.

► Eliminate ATM vandalism and night drop fishing

Our video analytics can notify you of a vehicle backing up in the ATM lane, identify if someone has been at the ATM or night drop too long. The 16 built in analytics, connected to the alarm panel, can signal the monitoring company to avoid potential loss.

► Secure your perimeter – day and night

With monitor delay and monitor response the Bosch system can activate a local alert or sent a report when a door, or teller drawer, has been open too long, even when the system is disarmed.

► Enjoy piece of mind

The Bosch name says quality and superior workmanship. Our investment in R&D ensures best-in-class products. Our dedication to security can be seen in our full line of encrypted intrusion panels.
